Boston Collaboratory School

A mentoring experience where teaching and learning goes both ways

2019

Boston Collaboratory School

At BoCoLab, students will experience:

A flexible, nurturing and joyful learning environment that values interconnectedness and brings together fields of study, people and communities.

Personalized learning that is relevant to students and inclusive of English Learners and students with special needs.
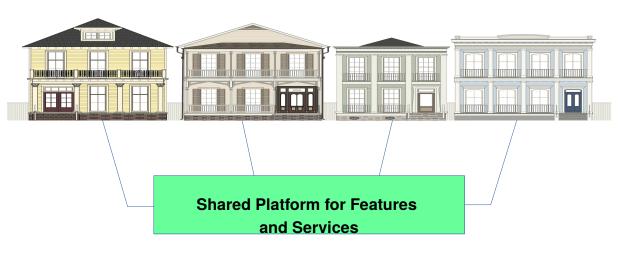

Interdisciplinary, project-based learning that will prepare them to: pursue further study, enter careers that are knowledge-intensive, and create their own successful paths.

Drutopia.org will offer shared web hosting where fees go to enrich the specific features and customizations agreed upon by the members.

See drutopia.org for more information

Shared Platform for Features and Services

Proprietary = pwnd

You cannot build a movement based on freedom on top of a proprietary foundation.

Contributing to the Drupal EcoSystem

Many companies that use Drupal contribute the customizations and modules they build back into the Drupal ecosystem thereby enriching the whole Drupal community.

Drupal.org

What is Drupal.org?

It is the website for downloading the Drupal software and the place to find modules to extend your site features, as well as a vibrant community of developers and designers that love to share info!

When you get home tonight, sign up for an account at Drupal.org to join the community.

https://www.drupal.org/community

Next we will enable a community feature.

Set up a FREE Development Server

1) To set up a FREE test Drupal 8 website go to:

   https://pantheon.io/register

2) Respond to the email you will get from Pantheon and login to your new account.

   We will give a few minutes for everyone to get logged in and then we will instruct you on setting up an instance of Drupal.
